

I'll Be There

Psalm 127:3

Music & Lyrics by Paul S. Paoli

I was there when you took your first breath, and I held you so tight.
And I was there when you took your first steps,
And the first time you slept through the night.
Weeks turn to months and the months turn to years.
But I still thank God each day, for the precious gift you are.
There is something that I want to say;

(Chorus)

I'll be there. I will stand by your side.

I will love you all the days of my life.

Through good times and bad, you can count on your dad.

Lord willing I'll be there.

I remember your first day of school, and all the cute things you said.
And all the nights when we talked, then we prayed,
before I tucked you in bed.
Some years from now we may walk down the aisle,
and it'll be hard to let go.
To think that my girl will not be a child;
When you're all grown you still need to know;

(Chorus)

But that day will come when my life here is through.

When the Lord takes me away.

Then I won't be here for you.

There is still something your dad has to say;

(Chorus)

I'll be there, I'll be waiting for you.

I pray Jesus is your Savior too.

Then we'll stand hand in hand one day together again.

Lord knows I'll be there. Lord knows I'll be there.
